Subject: Jr. High one act play festival

Dear Parents,

Your child is enrolled in the Jr. High Theatre class and has the opportunity to be in the play, which is a class project. The play will participate in the Industrial Jr. High One Act Play Festival hosted here at Industrial on Saturday, January 7. Your child can either participate as an actor or technician in the play. If your child is acting in the play it is VERY important they have 1/7/2012 free. If your child doesn't have 1/7/2012 free they will be participating on the technical crew. Participation in this play will be the majority of your child's grade for the rest of the semester.

The festival/contest will be an all day event but arrangements can be made if your child needs to leave early. We will rehearse in the morning, perform at 1:30 PM (tentative), watch other plays after our performance and finally there will be a critique by a judge and awards for the kids. The day should be over at about 6:30 or 7:00 PM.

If you have an afternoon or evening conflict you can check your child out as soon as the play is over (about 2:30 PM). If you don't have any conflicts on January 7 we would like your child to stay for the entire event, it will be a great learning experience.

The festival schedule and all information on the Jr High Theatre Website:
